Port Susan Middle School

Counselor's Corner

April, 2018

As we enter the month of April, we are busy at Port Susan Middle School gearing up for student registration and planning for next year's classes. I will be handing out registration materials to current 6th graders on April 26th in science classes. 7th graders will be receiving registration materials on April 27th in their history class. Please ask your student about the paperwork that they will be receiving from me. It will be due back on May 9th for current 6th graders and May 10th for current 7th graders. It is important for each student to return their completed registration so that they will have input regarding their elective classes for next year.

Most of the classes your student will be taking are required classes and they will, automatically, be placed into those. One of the history classes that all 7th graders are required to take is Pacific NW History (Washington State History). This is a semester long course that is required for high school graduation and will show up on their transcript. Students need to pass this class in 7th grade. Any student that doesn't receive a passing grade from this course, will need to retake it in 8th grade in place of an elective class.

Please contact me if you have any questions about classes for next year. We're looking forward to a positive spring!
